AUGUST MONTHLY MEETING

8:00 pm Monday, August 12, 2013
Atlanta Botanical Garden, Day Hall

Speaker: Linda Wilhelm
Woodland Orchids
Charlotte, NC

“The Magnificent Stanhopeas”

Linda Wilhelm started growing orchids in 1980 after a vacation in Florida. Already intrigued by orchids, she bought a small cattleya seedling, not knowing at the time that it would take seven or eight years to get a bloom. It was the beginning of an addiction. After meeting Rolf in 1985, the addiction became severe when he too got involved with orchids.

When the hobby got out of hand and developed into a serious passion for both Linda and Rolf, they started their business Woodland Orchids. They specialize in breeding warm tolerant Oncidiinae (several of their new hybrids have received awards from the AOS), compact cattleyas and also line breed a number of different species. Stanhopeas are the newest passion. An Accredited Judge, Linda is very active with the American Orchid Society and recently served as a Trustee for the organization. She enjoys being involved in shows outside her region, including offshore shows in the islands. “It offers such an opportunity to see a different variety of orchids as well as an opportunity to extend my group of friends”.

Linda is a lively speaker with a humorous personality and you will enjoy meeting her and hearing her program. She will bring a nice selection of plants with her including many things from their own breeding program that you won't be able to find elsewhere. You can check out their website and pre-order by contacting her at orchidfrau@bellsouth.net. Woodland Orchids is found at www.woodlandorchids.com

Stanhopea nigroviolacea* truly embodies the definition of “magnificent” with its other worldly flowers that can reach seven inches in spread. This Mexican species, while very exotic, can be grown in fairly typical “cattleya” conditions with just a little less light. Of course, it must have a place to hang since the highly fragrant flowers grow straight down from the plant! Linda Wilhem will show us more about this amazing genus and explain their best cultural practices.

President's Message

Do you believe the weather we are having this summer? Those of us who like to move orchids outdoors for the summer months are facing a new challenge. After the droughts of recent years, we now need to protect outdoor plants from, of all things, too much water! It is important this year to keep a watchful eye of the plants we have outdoors.

Your Board of Trustees will meet briefly this month to elect two individuals from the general membership to serve on the Nominating Committee. We need volunteers! The committee is active for a maximum of only two months and is typically able to fulfill its mission via telephone and email. This is the committee that helps steer the future course of your society. Please contact me or any member of the board to let us know you are willing to serve on this important committee.

See you on the 12th

Maureen Pulignano

AOS CORNER

The Houston Orchid Society and SWROGA have been featuring kid friendly activities at their orchid shows. The AOS Education Committee, through Sandy Stubbings and Susan Dally, has started posting a 'Kids Corner' on the AOS Website. The May and June postings can now be found under the News and Archive sections of the website (link to the June article <http://www.aos.org/Default.aspx?id=687>).

These articles are worth mentioning because they talk about their efforts in engaging children. I had the opportunity to see the featured photo wall at the Portland Orchid Society show last November and can attest that it is just not for kids! The 'Kids Corner' hopes to continue throughout the year. They would be interested in hearing how your society has 'shared your love of orchids with kids.' If your society has had success with some kid-oriented activity, let them know at education_committee@aos.org.

The Fall Members and Trustees meetings will be held between the Courtyard Miami Coconut Grove and the Fairchild Tropical Botanic Gardens, November 15-17. Special AOS rates apply for the hotel and will be available only through October 15. A link for registration for the meeting and hotel registration should be on the AOS website shortly, as well as more information on the featured speakers and vendors.

Over the summer, the Affiliated Societies Committee will be updating the information to be published in the Orchid Source Directory. We hope to contact all societies either by email or phone to confirm or update each society's record.

I hope you have all been enjoying the electronic Orchids Magazine. www.aos.org

Class I □ Cattleya Group

Blue – Cattleya schofieldiana – David Johnston

C. schofieldiana is a tall growing bi-foliate species from the state of Espírito Santo in Brazil which lies immediately north of the state of Rio de Janeiro on the Atlantic Coast. Though described in 1882, it is rare in collections and as recently as 1988, Withner in Vol. I of The Cattleyas and Their Relatives described it as poorly known. It was thought by many to be a variety of C. granulosa, but is now generally accepted as a separate species. The plants are generally taller, with fewer, but larger and more spotted flowers, and their range is several hundred miles further south of C. granulosa, where it is found on trees growing on steep slopes or cliffs with a northeast exposure at between 1,000 and 2,500 feet above sea level. C. granulosa, by contrast, grows in hot, humid coastal swamps where night time temperatures generally remain above 70 degrees year round. It normally flowers ahead of C. schofieldiana in late spring or early summer. That being said, both species as known in modern collections exhibit a great deal of variability in flower color and form, and it is possible some plants are misidentified. C. schofieldiana requires bright growing conditions with strong air movement at
